

WORSHIPPING IN A JEWISH TEMPLE.

The congregation of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Incarnation, whose house of worship was recently burned, assembled for religious services, yesterday morning, in the Temple Emanuel, at Fifth-ave, and Forty-third-st. The Rev. Arthur Brooks, rector of the church, preached. The house, excepting the galleries, was nearly filled. A number of Hebrews were present, including the Rev. Dr. Gustav Gottsch, rabbi of the synagogue, who, being present at the fire, was the first to enter the use of his house of worship to Mr. Brooks. The latter said to a Tribune reporter, when asked if it was not a very unusual arrangement for a Protestant Episcopal church to meet in a Jewish synagogue: "I only met such one instance where any Protestant church has thus met, which was that of a Baptist church in St. Louis, whose house was burned as ours has been. There is no canon forbidding the use of a synagogue, the church was unanimous in accepting it." Gottsch's use of the temple, as I presume, is Gottsch's own, it will be. It was certainly a kind offer, and we are very glad to accept it. Whether it will cause unfavorable comment by High Church people I do not know. I ought not to." A vestryman of the church said that he presumed there would be people, perhaps High Church Episcopalians, who would criticize the action of the church. Such persons, he said, would probably not object if the church had hired a hall which was used on week days for dancing or theatrical amusements. He thought the synagogue an excellent place to meet in, and that after offering it, it was a happy sign of the times of the places and times to come, when this week were placed in each paper, yesterday morning, the Easter morning services will be held in the Temple Emanuel-Elihu. On Sunday at 10:30 a.m., and Sunday Morning services will be held therefrom at 11 a.m., until further notice. There being no services held by the Hebrews Sunday mornings excepting Sunday-school, the arrangement causes no interference. Sunday afternoon services will be held in Zion Church in April, and in Christ Church in May. The children's services will be held at 4 p.m. next Sunday, in the church of the Holy Trinity. Lenten services will be held during the week in connection with Zion Church. The Sunday-school will meet in the chapel of the Broadway Tabernacle.

Scene in the auditorium of a theatre: Good Actor (who has appeared in the first place)—Good evening! May I take the seat you?" Lady—"Certainly; but you're a good player, any more to say?" Actor—No, nothing more. Oh! I am so glad! Pray sit right down!"—Boston Advertiser.
